

Follow our tips

to keep your pets calm and safe this season

Exclusive offers on Adaptil & Feliway

Top tips for dogs

- ✓ Start to walk your dogs before dusk – ensure they are back indoors before fireworks begin
- ✓ Ensure all windows and doors are shut
- ✓ Close curtains to reduce the impact of flashes
- ✓ Make a den/retreat so your dog has somewhere they feel safe and secure
- ✓ Turn on the TV or radio to drown out the noise of fireworks
- ✓ Make tasty treats or toys available as a distraction
- ✓ Try to ignore any reactions your dog makes to the fireworks – they may see this as a sign that you are worried about the noise yourself
- ✓ If your dog shows significant signs of anxiety, please arrange a visit to the vets to discuss all the options to make sure they are as calm as possible

BUY an ADAPTIL[®] Calm Home Diffuser or On-the-go Collar

Exclusive offer

and receive an ADAPTIL[®]
Calm Refill or an ADAPTIL[®]
Transport 60ml Spray

FREE[®]

Signs of anxiety in dogs

- Pacing
- Cowering or hiding
- Trembling
- Abnormal vocalisation (barking or whining)
- Panting
- Pacing or circling the room
- Excessive yawning or lip licking
- Need to stay close to their owner
- Soiling the house
- Refusing to eat

Top tips for cats

- ✓ Make sure your cat is microchipped to increase the chance that you will be reunited if they do get scared and decide to run away
- ✓ Ensure your cat is safely indoors well before dusk and that all windows, doors and cat-flaps are securely closed
- ✓ Close curtains to reduce the impact of flashes
- ✓ Provide a litter tray in a quiet area of the house. Do this well before the day's fireworks are expected so they become familiar with it
- ✓ Turn on the TV or radio to drown out the noise of fireworks
- ✓ Don't disturb your cat if they find somewhere to hide when the fireworks are going off. Cats find a good hiding space comforting
- ✓ Try to ignore any reactions your cat makes to the fireworks – they may see this as a sign that you are worried about the noise yourself
- ✓ If your cat shows significant signs of anxiety, please arrange a visit to the vets to discuss all the options to make sure they are as calm as possible

Signs of anxiety in cats

- Hiding
- Scratching furniture
- Urine Spraying
- Overgrooming (can lead to hair loss)
- Pacing
- Vocalisation

Buy a FELIWAY[®]
CLASSIC Diffuser

Exclusive offer

and receive a FELIWAY[®]
CLASSIC Refill or FELIWAY[®]
CLASSIC 60ml Spray

FREE*

Tip: Make a dog den/refuge

Make the den a few weeks before the expected fireworks to allow time for familiarisation.

- Choose a room your dog is used to and preferably one you will be in during firework times
- Use bedding they already have so it has a familiar smell
- A puppy crate is an ideal starting point if you have one
- If you do not have a crate, an enclosed area of the room is helpful, for example a gap between the sofa and the wall
- Use blankets to cover the den to create an enclosed and darkened area
- Now that you have made a safe place, you could offer food or lay a treat trail so that your dog gets used to their den and associates it with pleasurable things

For more handy pet care tips please contact us...

*T&C's apply. Offer valid from 30/09/19 until 05/01/20. Vouchers must be redeemed by 31/01/20, vouchers submitted after this date will not be processed. Not available in conjunction with any other offer/promotion. No cash alternative. This offer is only valid when purchased through veterinary practices. Ceva reserve the right to amend or withdraw this offer at any time. Allow 14 days for product to arrive after receipt has been submitted. Cannot mix and match between ADAPTIL® and FELIWAY®. Items need to be purchased from the same veterinary practice. Free product associated with this offer will be dispatched by Ceva Animal Health Ltd directly to the consumer. Proof of purchase is required to redeem free product. Free product not available with ADAPTIL® Express tablets, ADAPTIL® spray, FELIWAY® spray or FELISCRATCH by FELIWAY® purchases. For further details please visit the promotional page on our website.